

Illinois Gun Owners Alerted To Firearm Law

Gun owners in Lake County and Illinois have until July 1 to comply with the State's new firearm owner's registration law.

As of that date, anyone who acquires or possesses any firearm or ammunition must have a Firearm Owner's Registration Card.

Cards must be obtained by application to the State Department of Public Safety, and are issued only to those persons who meet State qualifications for gun owners.

Cost of a permit is $5. It is good for five years.

The Illinois State Bar Association has received many inquiries about the new law, which was enacted by the 1967 legislature as Senate Bill No. 1350. Here are some of those questions and the answers given:

Q: Who is prohibited from obtaining a gun owner's permit?
A: The State will not issue permits to narcotic addicts; persons who have been patients in mental hospitals within the prior five years; mentally retarded persons; persons who within the past five years have been convicted of a felony or been confined to a penitentiary.

Also, to qualify, one must be 21 years of age or, if under 21, he must have the written consent of a parent or guardian who has a valid Firearm Owner's Identification Card and must never have been convicted of a misdemeanor other than a traffic offense or been adjudged a delinquent.

Q: Do we need a firearm Owner's ID Card for the old muzzle loading flintlock that hangs over our mantel?
A: The law applies to any firearm device "designed to expel a projectile or projectiles by the action of an explosion, expansion of gas or escape of gas," collector's items included.

Only air guns, spring guns or BB guns which expel "a single globular projectile not exceeding .18 inch in diameter," and safety construction or signaling device are exempt.

Q: The law says no one under 21 years old can obtain a Firearm Owner's Identification Card without written consent of a parent or guardian who holds a valid card. My 11 year old son loves to hunt, but his father is hospitalized and I don't hunt. What does the law say about this?

A: It doesn't rule out your son provided you or your husband, even though he is hospitalized, qualify and obtain a registration card and then give written consent to your son's application.

If he is otherwise qualified, a permit will be issued to him. Of course because of his age he needs the written consent of a parent or guardian to obtain a hunting license, too.

One other thing: Any parent or guardian who gives consent to a minor to hold a registration card will be liable for any damage resulting from the minor's use of firearms or ammunition.

The Public Safety Department has by law a 30 day period during which to investigate the application and issue the card.

Applications should be mailed by June 1, to be registered by the July 1 effective date.

Application must be made on forms now available from city police departments, sheriff's offices, registered firearms dealers, currency exchanges and county clerks.

A pamphlet explaining all of the law's provisions can be obtained by writing to the Department of Public Safety, Firearm Owners Identification Section, Room 507, Illinois State Armory, Springfield, Ill. 63702.

Village Board Accepts $3,546 Insurance Bid

The Antioch Village Board of Trustees Tuesday night approved the bid of Les Sorenson, representing the Trans-American Insurance Co. to supply insurance for the village for the next three years.

The price of the coverage for the three year period is $3,546.

The action was taken at a special board meeting attended by all six trustees.

Mayor Raymond Toft was not present for the meeting and trustees elected Trustee J. Irving Walsh to chair the special meeting.

The action Tuesday night was taken on the recommendation of the insurance committee which had met the previous evening to go over the four bids submitted.

Members of the insurance committee are Walsh, Robert C. Wilton and Richard O. Burnette.

The other bids received by the trustees included Bernard Osmond, who was high with $5,707.

John F. Romer who bid $4,127 and Richard Witt, who made a partial bid of $1,837.

Walsh pointed out that Witt's bid was not considered because it failed to cover five categories requested in the specifications.

Romer's bid included two categories that were not called for in the specifications which amounted to $95. But with this reduction it still left him the second lowest bidder.

The special meeting was called after trustees realized that insurance coverage for the village ran out on May 15.

It was at first proposed that the insurance matter could have been carried over from the last board meeting until May 21.

The carry over was requested so that the committee could break down the bids to determine just what was proposed before taking any action.

With the announcement of the termination of present insurance, however, the meeting was speeded up and called for last Tuesday.

The bid of Sorenson was accepted unanimously by the trustees.

Although the meeting was called specifically for the selection of the low bidder for insurance coverage, the board did conduct one other piece of business—subject to the approval of the finance committee.

Trustee Vern L. Barnstable reported that the A. & H. Construction Co., Antioch, had completed sidewalk work to the tune of $774.75 and wanted to get paid.

The board, on Barnstable's motion, approved the payment in a unanimous vote.

Spring Fling Begins

Antioch's Spring Fling Days begin today.

And residents and visitors alike are in for a treat when they flock to the stores participating in the event.

For not only are they going to get bargains, they are going to get gassed up, too—with petrol that is.

The seven-day spring festival of sales will be held through May 22 and nearly all of the area merchants are cooperating.

Those who have bargains for everyone include Antioch Furniture, Antioch Lumber & Coal, Antioch Packing House, Antioch V&S Hardware.

Barnstable's Department Store, Erickson Sewing Center, Gibbs & Jensen, Gilded Cage, Hahn Jewelry, MariAnne's, Carl C. Seemann Cleaners, Shoe Box and the State Bank.

During the seven-day sale each merchant participating in the promotion will give one free gallon of regular gasoline with the first $5 of purchases and one gallon with every $10 purchase thereafter.

There is a maximum of five gallons to be given each customer but that is a quarter of a tank just for coming over and buying the things that you would need anyway, and at good prices.

Coupons will be distributed to participating merchants and will be redeemable at four gas stations in Antioch that are cooperating in the program sponsored by the Retail Committee of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

George Hahn, committee chairman, said that this is only the first of several events planned in Antioch for the coming months.

The participating gas stations, where coupons are redeemable are Orchard Plaza Texaco; White's Sinclair; Main and Depot Streets; Bill's Pure Oil and Johnson's Sinclair, both at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 83.

Antioch Cancer Drive Reaches 44% Of Campaign Goal

There is an air of hope throughout cancer research laboratories these days. Mrs. William Brook, Crusade Chairman of Antioch of the American Cancer Society, said today.

Mrs. Brook stated that she believed much of the new atmosphere could be attributed not only to opening fields of discovery, but also to a new dimension added to the American Cancer Society's research program itself.

Under our reorganization there will be an emphasis on the development of what might be called "research strategy." That is, the Society will be laying stress on the focusing of attacks on certain key objectives. In addition, we've set up a new department which will review previous studies, and unearth significant leads, which, for one reason or another were previously overlooked.

If there seems good reason to, these leads will be followed up, carefully and thoroughly.

In slightly more general terms, the new research group will examine some of the broad areas of research effort in which progress has been disappointingly slow thus far.

"A few examples of questions still unanswered," Mrs. Brook went on, "are those such as the following: How can we find a true chemical cure for leukemia, rather than simply life-prolongers such as we already have? Will we be able to find a virus, or viruses in human cancer, thereby making development of a vaccine at least a possibility? Will it prove possible to mobilize the body's immune defenses to counteract cancer? How can we persuade more people to avoid or give up smoking, so as to reduce the toll taken by lung cancer and other cigarette-lined diseases? "These are only a few of the questions waiting to be answered, and the answers can be a matter of millions of lives saved over the next decade."

In summing up, Mrs. Brook likened the Cancer Society's new efforts to a battlefield campaign.

"This realignment of our research objectives might be compared to the regrouping of a force of soldiers so as to pinpoint their attack on a key objective, while at the same time insuring that their tactics fit smoothly into the strategic goals of other service forces."

"For no matter how you look at it, cancer is 'high ground' that vitally needs to be taken."

Total raised in the Crusade so far in Antioch is $581. This is 44% of our goal, said Mrs. Brook. Dial 244-6211 for a message on Cancer.

Altorfer Charges Pollution Battle Choked By Ineptness

The battle to reduce air pollution in Illinois is being choked by bureaucratic ineptness, John Henry Altorfer charged in Lake County Friday.

The Peoria businessman and civic leader, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor said at a breakfast meeting at the Swedish Glee Club in Waukegan:

"The public has correctly demanded that government—local, state and federal—take immediate action to get effective pollution abatement and control programs into motion," he said. "But the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board, beset by procedural wrangles, is more concerned about granting or not granting certificates of exemption than it is in stopping the contamination of the air we breathe."

Altorfer said that when he is elected Governor he will recommend the power to grant certificates of exemption be taken away from the Board and that all cities and counties with programs which meet or exceed the state minimum air pollution standards automatically be permitted to proceed with their own programs.

He also said he believes corrective legislation may be needed to authorize the board to declare a state of emergency during periods of concentrated heavy air pollution to make certain that it has the power to call for curbs in incineration.

Altorfer commended the Air Pollution Control Board for insisting that the Metropolitan Sanitary District submit a specific plan for ending the massive pollution by its Stickney sludge-drying plant.

"However, I believe there is a good deal more that Government itself can do to make absolutely certain its skirts are clean before it asks the public and industry to live up to strict anti-air pollution regulations."

"Feasibility study for conversion to low or non polluting types of fuel should be undertaken for all public buildings, including schools. Incinerators in all state owned buildings should be equipped with anti-pollution equipment. Autos used by state and local government should have smog-reducing exhaust control devices on them," he said.

Once government shows an example of sound, consistent anti-air pollution practices, then we can ask and expect to receive full cooperation from citizens in industry, he said.

"As one who flies his own plane frequently, I have too often seen the ugly haze and smog that hovers over many Illinois Metropolitan areas."

"But the real authority in air pollution and the grime that plagues our atmosphere is the lady of the house," he said. "Ask her about its effect on clothing, curtains and home furnishings."

"She perhaps wonders, as I do, whether we are giving serious enough attention to solving air pollution problems when the state has only one man to cover the entire northern section of Illinois, including the incorporated areas of Cook County."

In spite of the inadequate state staff, the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board has refused to give Cook County—which does have a good staff and laboratory—the right to institute a strong air pollution program in the incorporated areas of the county, Altorfer said.

This action by the Board is all the more difficult to understand in view of rulings by the Cook County State's Attorney, and the office of the Illinois Attorney General that Cook County has the power to enforce its air pollution regulations in the incorporated areas, Altorfer said.

We Pick Altorfer

Picking a candidate for the GOP standard bearer for governor is no mean task these days.

There are four men seeking the post for the privilege of running against Lt. Gov. Samuel S. Shapiro in the November General Election.

Each candidate is able and is stumping the state in an effort to garner enough votes to put him in the lead and each is doing an excellent job.

But we believe that one man stands out from among all the rest.

And that man, and our choice, is John Henry Altorfer, 47, of Peoria.

Altorfer is an articulate fellow who brings to the voting public a refreshing change.

He refers to the State of Illinois as a business—and we would like to believe that it is.

He says that the state should be run like a business in order for you and I—the taxpayer who foots the bills—to get every dollar's worth of value for every dollar we send to Springfield.

We kind of like that kind of talk.

It has been lacking in many a politician for too long.

John Henry Altorfer is a successful businessman who has proven his success in his industrial and other enterprises.

The State of Illinois is facing its blackest hours with financial crisis just around the corner.

If ever we needed a businessman at the helm of our ship of state, it is now.

John Henry Altorfer is the best qualified Republican to carry the GOP banner in November on the basis of integrity and statewide identification and his election would provide an opportunity to the Republican Party to gain a major state office and retain still another, the chairmanship of the Cook County Board, a post one of his opponents now holds but would desert.

His name on the November ballot would also assure some semblance of geographical balance for the Republican Party in the coming election.

Fitness Needed

Vice President Hubert Humphrey recently cited facts and figures which should send every American running to the nearest sports club or YMCA, or at least jolt him out of the easy chair in front of his television set.

Speaking to the new President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, of which he is chairman, the vice president reported that:

—1 of every 2 American adults is overweight, according to estimates by the American Medical Association.

—Fifty per cent of America's college students—young men and women in their late teens or early twenties—fail to meet accepted physical fitness standards.

—The average American youngster spends 10 hours watching TV for every hour he spends in supervised sports or physical activity.

As a way of getting Americans of all ages to be more active and fit, the Vice President has suggested that we convert our schools into neighborhood recreation centers.

Specifically he is asking all communities to keep open their school sports facilities—the gymnasiums, swimming pools, tennis courts, tracks and playing fields—this summer.

To us, Mr. Humphrey's request makes excellent sense. America has nearly $100 billion invested in its schools, yet most communities operate them at capacity only 8 hours a day, 180 days a year.

Communities which already employ the approach recommended by the Vice President report that it costs only a few dollars per capita to cover the cost of staff, equipment, maintenance and other operating expenses.

That's cheap compared to the cost of duplicating the trained leadership and extensive facilities which our schools employ only part-time.

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClory

The recent "shoot to kill" advice to police officers confronted with arsonists and looters evidences a public "get tough" policy in behalf of law enforcement. Mayor Daley elaborated on his statement, to explain that his advice was intended to apply only in those cases where lives of police officers or others were endangered. Still, the demand for stricter law enforcement appears to have growing popular support. Statistics furnished by the FBI show that in the last ten years crime has increased by 88% while population has increased by only 10%. Equally alarming are the statistics which show that arrests by law enforcement officers are not keeping pace with the increased incidence of crime. Relying again on FBI data, it appears that while crime increased by 16% in 1967 (over the year before) arrests for all criminal acts rose only 4%.

One explanation for this deficiency is obviously the restrictions imposed by the U. S. Supreme Court with regard to interrogation of criminal suspects. These limitations, embodied in the Escobedo and Miranda cases, have probably been given an interpretation far beyond that intended by the Court.

Several measures pending in the Congress are directed specifically toward aiding law enforcement officials in their investigations of criminal activity and the apprehension of criminal suspects. An amendment to the pending anti-crime bill offered by Senator John McClellan, (D-Ark.), would define legislatively the extent to which law enforcement officers may interrogate criminal suspects—including innocent individuals—in their investigation of crime. This amendment is intended to enlarge the role which law enforcement personnel are now playing in criminal investigations. Another measure is the so-called "stop and frisk" bill introduced recently by the Republican leadership in the U. S. House of Representatives and of which this Member is a co-sponsor. This proposal would permit federal law enforcement officers who reasonably suspect a person of criminal activity, to stop, detain, and interrogate such person for 20 minutes. In addition, if the officer reasonably believes he is in danger of bodily harm, he may protect himself by "frisking" the suspect for dangerous weapons. According to Congressman McCulloch (R-Ohio), ranking Minor-

Elaine and Mike Wojnowski of Bluff Lake Road just returned from a wonderful trip to Hawaii, with stop overs on the way home at Los Angeles, Las Vegas and ity Member of the House Judiciary Committee, at least 16 states have enacted similar legislation which has been upheld by the ap-pel-late courts of those states. The President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice likewise expressed the need for such a measure.

Still another proposal aimed at improving the law enforcement capability is the wiretap or electronic surveillance bill which would permit law enforcement officers, under specific court authority, to employ wiretaps in the investigation of certain serious crimes—particularly those in which the organized crime syndicate is en-gaged.

It may be that the public is not yet sufficiently aroused to the impact of crime on our society. It is possible, also, that public officials—particularly those that work in the legislative halls of our states and nation—have not been sufficiently aroused to take the decisive and firm action which the circumstances appear to require.

Sheriff Bill D. Hemphill of Cass-ville, Missouri, President of the National Sheriff's Association, has put this point in clear and straight-forward language when he declared recently: "Whenever the people of our nation through their elected officials decide that they've had enough of crime, whenever they (and that includes each of us as well) decide that law breakers must, and will be punished for their transgressions, we will have taken a giant step toward the domestic tranquility we must have."

Courthouse Notebook

By Lou Durkin

It's hard to believe, but there really is a contest for the Republican nomination for State's Attorney in Lake County. In fact there are four people actively seeking the office.

Jack Hoogasian, veteran assistant state's attorney under Bruno W. Stanczak has taken the old adage "Run scared" to heart and is conducting a rather full blown campaign for the nomination and is considered in most circles to be a cinch.

Posters and signs bearing the Hoogasian message are well-scattered throughout the county and the candidate is making all the meetings in an effort to garner votes.

Warren Behr, another Stanczak assistant and the Town Clerk in Waukegan is in the race and evidence of this is beginning to appear, but not in the same profusion as Hoogasian's.

Rounding out the field are Paul Hamer, who is not expected to get much support in the courthouse because of his long legal battle as attorney for the Association of Collective Taxpayers in their fight against the new county building complex, and Normand Cohen, a GOP precinct committeeman from Highland Park who might do well in his area but is unlikely to cut much ice in the rest of the county despite his affiliation with the Lake County Republican Central Committee.

Despite the four man field there have been few fireworks in the campaign which evoked a nostalgic sigh for some of the State's Attorney races in the past and particularly the campaign of 1956. That was the year Justice Thomas J. Moran made his political debut in a swinging, whing ding of a battle against the incumbent, the late Robert C. Nelson.

Both candidates that year were exciting personalities and they both enjoyed substantial campaign chests.

Both candidates made enough noise and threw enough verbal punches to provide the press with a steady stream of exciting campaign news.

Some candidates are inclined to criticize the press for not carrying enough campaign news, but if the office-seekers don't create news with their speeches and their actions the press can't offer much in the way of coverage.

The GOP gubernatorial race is heating up, so much so in fact that Robert Dwyer, the unopposed candidate for Lieutenant Governor wants to call a summit peace conference.

Close Republican primaries in the past have left scars which impaired the efficiency of the organization (?) in the general election, but we don't like to see these summit conferences.

It's almost as though Dwyer were saying, "Look, fellows, you're getting pretty close to the truth and we have to be careful about that."

Both former Governor William G. Stratton and Richard Ogilvie came out in favor of the Lake-wood Farms Forest Preserve site as the location of a new state university.

Stratton looked over the location prior to his visit to the new county administration building last week and then went over plans for it with E. Kenny Harlan, former president of the Forest Preserve District.

Ogilvie was briefed for a planned question during his breakfast stop in Waukegan last week.

Percy Housing Bill Gets Refinement

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said today the omnibus housing bill which is now scheduled for the Senate floor this week has been "greatly strengthened" by amendments providing for greater participation of the poor.

He said the amendments—adopted by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee—are responsive to the requests of the Poor People's Campaign.

The amendments, sponsored by Percy, would provide for:

1. Hiring the ghetto persons to work on housing projects.
2. Getting the Home Ownership program under way immediately through the use of existing housing units.
3. Encouraging tenant councils in public housing projects.
4. Giving priority to Home Ownership programs which are initiated and supported in the neighborhood itself.

The exact language of the first amendment says that the Department of Housing and Urban Development "to the greatest extent feasible" shall require that opportunities for employment arising in connection with the construction or rehabilitation of low-income housing programs "be given to lower-income persons residing in the area of such projects."

"Too often the government has hired white workers from outside the neighborhood to work on slum clearance and public housing projects," Percy said, "while the black persons who actually lived there stood idly by."

Sen. Paul Simon To Address Dams

There will be a meeting of the Lake County Democratic Central Committee today, May 16, at 8 p.m. at the VFW Hall, 124 S. Utica St., Waukegan.

Sen. Paul Simon, D-Troy, candidate for lieutenant governor, will be addressing the Mundelein Chamber of Commerce at a dinner meeting, and is expected to come to Waukegan to address the assembly there.

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, endorsed the amendment.

"The second amendment would get the Home Ownership program under way immediately instead of in two or three years," Percy said.

The housing bill authorizes $20 million for fiscal 1969 for upgrading management services and providing tenant services to families in public housing projects. Percy's third amendment would require that HUD give preference to programs providing for "maximum feasible participation" of tenants.

Before the amendment was adopted, the Home Ownership program would have applied only to rehabilitated or new housing. Under the new language, persons may immediately buy existing homes.

This amendment was supported by the Civil Rights Commission, although opposed by HUD.

The Committee on Banking and Currency, before endorsing the omnibus housing bill, adopted language proposed by Percy. Home Ownership is Title I of the omnibus bill.

Candidates To Give Views

Three major candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor will outline their commitment to the State's 320,000 retarded children and adults at the statewide convention of the Illinois Association for the Mentally Retarded (IAMR).

The Association's 18th annual conference is scheduled for May 17 and 18 at the Dixon State School in Dixon.

Illinois gubernatorial aspirants John H. Altötter, Peoria; Richard B. Ogilvie, President of the Cook County Board of Commissioners; and former Governor William G. Stratton will share the speakers' platform at the IAMR Annual Luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, May 18, at the Skyline Lodge, Dixon.

They accepted IAMR's invitation to give their views on needed legislation to bring services and programs to Illinois' mentally retarded citizens and their families.

Among pressing problems in Illinois, according to Mrs. McNally, is a waiting list of more than 3,000 retarded seeking admission to a State residential care facility. Admissions are so slow, she stated that the wait for placement may be as long as eight years.

Open to the public, the convention will also offer workshop sessions, lectures, panels, exhibits and film presentations on a variety of major topics in the field.

The Illinois Association for the Mentally Retarded, a member of the National Association for Retarded Children, is the State parent body of 38 local associations for the retarded throughout Illinois. The not-for-profit voluntary organization works for programs to prevent mental retardation, as well as services to assist those already afflicted by mental handicap to reach their fullest potential in society.

Water Safety Tips Given By Commission

Each summer millions of Americans participate in water sports: fishing, boating, swimming, skin diving, and water skiing. Each year, too, over 6000 people drown in boating accidents and while swimming and playing in the water.

Here are some rules from the Lake County Safety Commission to remember while swimming.

Know what you're diving into. How deep is the water? Is the bottom clear?

Stay out of fast currents. If caught in one, swim parallel to the shore until you're out of it.

In case of a cramp, don't panic. Tread water; call for help.

If you encounter weeds, your best bet to avoid entanglement is to use slow careful movements.

Don't swim top far out—swim parallel to the shore, not away from it.

Don't swim alone. Leave the water before becoming chilled or overly tired.

Don't swim to the rescue of another person unless you've had life-saving training. Otherwise use a boat or lifesaving equipment.

Learn artificial respiration. After dark stay ashore. Swim at patrolling beaches.

You don't save enough money, do you?

You try to save. But something always comes up. The dentist, maybe. Or car repairs. Or the kids need clothes. It seems there's always month left at the end of the money instead of the other way around.

Well, you're not alone. It's the same way with millions of Americans. But you know, they've found a way to save successfully. They've signed up for U.S. Savings Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where they work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where they bank. They put a regular amount every payday toward Savings Bonds.

The plan works—because it's automatic. The saving is done for you. And you don't feel the pinch because you don't see the money. Sounds funny, but it's true.

We call it "Don't-Take-Home-Pay," and it's the greatest invention since take-home pay.

When you invest in Savings Bonds you add to your security today, and add to your opportunities for tomorrow. Savings Bonds can provide the down payment on a new home. A college education for the children. A comfortable, enjoyable retirement. And your savings earn a good return while they pile up.

There's also another reason to buy Savings Bonds. You put your savings to work for America, in the cause of freedom. You help your country at the same time you help yourself. That can make you feel mighty good.

Another thing: when you join the Payroll Savings Plan or the Bond-a-Month Plan, you are also eligible to purchase the new type U.S. Savings Notes—Freedom Shares. Freedom Shares pay 4.74% when held to maturity of just 4½ years (redeemable after one year), are available on a one-for-one basis with Savings Bonds.

Why not get started today? Talk to the Payroll Department where you work, or to any officer where you bank.

You'll breathe easier because you're saving money. And you'll walk taller because you're helping your country.

Nader Qualifies For State Meet

Bill Nader

At the state district track meet last Saturday, Bill Nader threw the discus 156' 10" to place 3rd and qualify for state track meet this week. Thus, Bill joins the list of other Antioch track greats that have made the state finals. The list of recent Antioch boys include:

1960—Ken Truelsen, 180 yd. low hurdles, placed 3rd
1963—Dione Rathbone, half mile relay
1963—Mile relay team: Tom Tanti-linger, Ray Peterson, Rick Fowles, Dione Rathbone
1964—Tom Morgan, 100 yd. dash
1965—Tom Morgan, 100 yd. wash, 220 yd. dash
1966—Tyrone Walls, shot put 1967—Wayne Hansen, shot put 1968—Bill Nader, discus.

Bill has placed well in all big meets this season and is undefeated in conference competition. He is the holder of the school sophomore record in the discus and Monday Bill again set a new varsity record with a heave of 159' 2". During the last two weeks Bill has had steady improvement, with this kind of improvement this week, he could very easily place in the state meet.

The conference record is also one of Bill's goals. The conference meet will be here on May 25. The conference record is 154' 5", a toss we are sure Bill can beat on conference day.

Don't Overload Boat! Use Right Size Motor

Common sense is a wonderful thing. But sometimes we forget and need "a little tap on the shoulder" to remind us to keep alert. Let's do some shoulder tapping now.

SEAWORTHINESS. Don't trust your family to a boat that isn't absolutely seaworthy. Inspect before each use.

SUIT MOTOR TO BOAT. Small motor on big boat equals poor response. Big motor on small boat equals difficult control. Make sure your motor is right for your boat.

SUIT LOAD TO BOAT. Is your boat big enough for your family? Don't overload; keep load distribution even.

SAFETY EQUIPMENT. Always carry a life preserver for each passenger; a fire extinguisher; lights.

SQUALLS AND STORMS spell trouble. Know the forecast before going out. Watch for signs of trouble—head for shore if bad weather comes up.

SAFETY EVERYWHERE . . . ALL THE TIME. Keep your boat under control. Respect the rights of swimmers, fishermen, and other craft to the water. Remember that your wake may cause other craft to flounder.

Enroll Now For Boys Farm Forestry Camp

Boys between 14 and 18 years old should make application soon for the 17th annual Illinois Boys' Farm Forestry Camp August 3-10, suggests Ray T. Nicholas, Lake County Extension Adviser.

If you would like to attend the forestry camp, contact the county extension adviser's office, Lake County Fair Grounds, not later than May 24. The camp, located on Lake West Frankfort in Franklin County close to the heart of the southern Illinois forest country, helps you become better acquainted with timber, soil and water conservation.

You will also have an opportunity to learn about the practical application of forestry to farming operations. The experience gives you a background for managing farm woodlands for lumber, Christmas tree production areas, recreation sites and wildlife protection centers, Nicholas says.

Application selection is based on your forestry interest, leadership capacity, and experience with forestry projects at home, school or club. Boys who attended the 1967 camp were members of 4-H, Future Farmers of America, Boy Scouts, or church organizations.

Wood-using and coal-producing industries, farm and conservation organizations and service clubs provide the camp's financial support. The camp is sponsored by the Illinois Technical Forestry Association, a non-partisan organization devoted to the intelligent use of forest and wood products, Nicholas reports.

Approximately 30 foresters, agricultural and conservation leaders and teachers and University of Illinois Extension staff members provide instruction for the week-long camp.

Nicholas says camp applications should be submitted before May 24.

Camping Families Selected

Thirty-three camping families have been selected to camp at the Lake County Family Camping Show this weekend, May 17-19 at the Lake County Fairgrounds, Rtes. 45 and 120, Grayslake.

The show is sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service in Lake County.

The families selected will camp on the grounds during the three-day show and discuss their camping units with visitors. The campers were chosen for their wide variety of camping equipment.

Also displaying equipment, boats, and sporting goods will be commercial exhibitors. There will be camping foods and fashions as well as camping guides and material concerning water and soil conservation.

On Saturday afternoon, May 18, there will be a style show featuring camping clothing from Gibbs & Janssen in Antioch.

Mr. and Mrs. Horman Stehr, Townline Rd., Waukegan, will tell about their seven-week camping trip to Alaska at 8:30 p.m. on Friday night, May 17, the opening night of the show. The talk and slide presentation will be in the fairgrounds auditorium.

To open the show on Friday night, the Teen Twisters, a group of square dancers from the Grayslake area, will entertain at 8 p.m.

At 9:30 p.m. Friday, there will be a campfire for the campers and the public, and Carl Young from Woodstock will lead the group in campfire songs.

Young and his wife spent six weeks traveling through Mexico last year in a camping caravan. Young was the song leader for the 407 trailer in the caravan.

Young will also lead singing again on Saturday night at 9:30.

The Teen Twisters will perform again Saturday night at 8:00. At 8:30 the public will have an opportunity to join the folk dancing led by Ed E. Carlson of Grayslake.

On Sunday afternoon, May 19, the show will open at noon and at 3 p.m. Kathy Heikotter from Wauconda and a group of students from Carmel High School, "Just Me Plus Them," will entertain.

Following Miss Heikotter on Sunday the 4-H members will present skits from Share the Fun.

The Lake County Home Economics Council and the 4-H Junior leaders will provide a snack bar on the fairgrounds.

Pollution Bill Gets Approval

Endorsement of the proposed billion dollar pollution control bond issue by the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers has been termed an assurance of the proposal's importance.

Maynard P. Venema and William L. Rutherford, co-chairmen of the Illinoisans for Pure Air and Water, said the endorsement has specific significance in view of the fact that the ISPE is a major professional organization in Illinois with a large segment of its membership educated and experienced in the subject of air and water pollution.

"The endorsement should be an assurance to the voters of Illinois of the important passage of the bond issue in November," they said.

The Illinois legislature enacted the Resource Development Bond Act at the 75th General Assembly allowing the issue to be put before the people of Illinois at the

Terry Nickerson Wins Game With Homer

Antioch 7 10 1
Grayslake 6 6 1

The Sequoits chalked up another victory in their game with Grayslake last Friday winning 7-6. It was a game of thrills and excitement.

Ralph Zanek was the starting pitcher, but was bombarded by 4 runs in the first inning and Wilford Wells came in to replace him. Wells did a tremendous job of pitching for the balance of the game.

Antioch scored 4 runs in their half of the first inning to tie the score. Pleviak walked, Drije was hit by a pitched ball, and Wilford Wells walked, loading the bases. Jerry Martin came up and singled, driving in two runs. A wild pitch put two men in scoring position and Jim Carlson singled to bring them home.

Another run was scored in the second inning when Pleviak and Drije walked — Comstock got on first due to an error, loading the bases. Wilford Wells hit an infield single to score the run.

In the third inning Jim Carlson hit a mighty 400 ft. home run, and in the seventh inning, with the score tied 6-6, Terry Nickerson hit the first pitch for a home run to win the game.

Grayslake scored 4 hits in the first, 1 in the third and 1 run in the 5th. Wilford Wells was the winning pitcher and Thompson was the losing pitcher.

Sequoits Beat R. Lake In District Opener

Antioch 6 8 1
Round Lake 3 9 1

The Sequoit Varsity baseball team is in second place—just two games out of first, with 4 games to go for their season.

They did a terrific job of mowing down Round Lake Monday in their district opener, 6-3. Round Lake is in first place in the conference.

Antioch scored one run in the first inning, when Drije got on first on a fielder's choice. He stole second and Jim Carlson hit a double which enabled him to score.

In the third inning, Pleviak and Drije singled, Carlson got on first on a fielder's choice, and everyone was safe—loading the bases. Jerry Martin hit a home run to left field to clean the bases, scoring 4 runs.

Antioch scored another run in the fourth inning when Pleviak singled, went to second on an error, and on to third on a wild pitch. He scored on a fielder's choice.

Round Lake got two runs in the third on 3 singles and one run in the 6th on 3 singles.

In the Round Lake half of the 7th, they had the bases loaded, and with two outs, Wilford Wells pitched the batter a ball that went for an infield out.

Wilford went all the way for the Sequoits and was the winning pitcher, while Quinn was the losing pitcher.

Major league scouts were on hand watching this game.

Old Age Assistance Down In February

The number of persons under the Old Age Assistance and Blind Assistance programs decreased in February. However, these decreases were offset by increases in the Disability Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, and General Assistance programs.

Harold O. Swank, director of the Illinois Department of Public Aid, said an increase of 5,543 brought the number of persons on the rolls to 482,667 in February, compared to 477,124 in January. The February 1968 caseload is 58,002 above the February 1967 total of 424,665 persons.

B. A. Patterson Named New Head Of Millburn School

B. A. Patterson, manager of Jaenot Farm, Wadsworth, was selected last week to fill the vacancy for the post of school superintendent of Millburn School.

Patterson will replace Jack Adams who is leaving the district June 30.

The board considered the qualification of nine other candidates who applied for the superintendency before selecting Patterson for the job.

Patterson, a World War II veteran received a degree in education from the University of Iowa. For the past eight years he has been managing the Jaenot Farm owned by Jack Hogan of the United Insurance Co. He has been active in the managing of thoroughbred race farms in Illinois and Kentucky.

Patterson is married and currently resides on Jaenot Farm property. He was a member of the Millburn school board for the past six years—and served as president the last year. He is now completing work at Roosevelt University for his master's degree.

Patterson will be paid $8,400 a year and will be required to divide his time as an administrator and a teacher during the school term.

He will take over his new job on July 1.

BBB Warns Of Gyppers

"This is the time of the year again for the army of schemers to come out of their cracks to prey on homeowners," said Earl R. Lind, president of the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Chicago. If the past is any indication, BBB/Chicago alerts the public to some of the itinerants who will be working in the Chicago area.

Model Home Offer

A salesman offers free installation (or a big discount) of aluminum siding if the house can be used as a model in "before and after advertisements." The homeowner usually winds up by signing a contract which will cost hundreds of dollars more than a reputable firm would charge.

Termite Exterminators

Itinerant "exterminators" find serious termite problems in a home and sell the owner a termite control job. Some of them even bring along their own insects to display if they can't find any on the property.

Tree Surgeons

Just happened to be in your area woodsmen offer low priced tree trimming services. They often leave shade trees in such bad condition that it requires years of care to reshape them properly.

Driveway Sealers

Claiming they just finished a job down the street and have some material left, these gypsies (often identified by BBB's as the "Williamson Gang") offer to resurface your driveway at a bargain price. But instead of using a quality sealer, the swindler will probably use something similar to old crankcase oil which doesn't dry and may damage carpeting if tracked into the home.

Reroofing Gyp

An alleged repairman shows the homeowner a handful of shingles which he claims fell from the roof and warns that the entire roof may leak if it is not fixed immediately. The homeowner usually winds up with a shoddy job.

Humus Gyps

Salesmen offer humus which they claim is good for lawn and gardens at a so-called "bargain" rate. They don't reveal the quality and quantity, as legitimate landscapers do, and after covering the lawn they present a huge bill.

"There is an easy way to avoid these and other kinds of gyppers," urged Lind, and he suggested that before you do business with firms unknown to you, "it is better to investigate before you invest."

need on the farm have doubled in the past 20 years and are expected to double again in the next five years.

Emphasizing that the average investment per farm is over $70,000 and is increasing rapidly, he commented that young farm people interested in buying their own farms have difficulty meeting decent living standards because of high debt repayment schedules.

Senator Nelson's bill, S. 1567, is known as the Young Farmer's Investment Act. "It provides terms of repayment which are more realistic with capital needs and debt retirement," Kirchner testified. "It would make it unnecessary for farm people to live in substandard levels throughout their lifetime in order to make heavy mortgage and interest payments."

Folklore & Fallacies

Part of the folklore of every country is superstitions about teeth. Though once they were earnestly held to be true, now we smile at such beliefs.

Here are some of the fallacies about teeth that are still widely believed—and the facts.

Q—Will eating foods with plenty of vitamins and minerals prevent tooth decay?

A—After all the teeth are formed and calcified, diet has little effect upon the teeth, except that excess sugar plays a part in the development of decay. However, a balanced diet is needed throughout life for the health of all of the tissues of the body, including the gums and other mouth tissues.

Q—Do teeth decay because they are soft?

A—There is little difference in the hardness of teeth, and this difference has no bearing on tooth decay.

Q—Are the best times to brush the teeth before breakfast or before going to bed?

A—To be effective, brushing should be done immediately after eating. Bacteria in the mouth quickly turn fermentable carbohydrates, especially sugar, to acid, which attacks the enamel of the teeth. Eventually, these acid attacks result in decay.

Q—Does toothbrushing completely prevent the deposit of tartar on the teeth?

A—It is unlikely that brushing alone will completely prevent the deposit of tartar, nor can it remove hardened tartar from the teeth. Only a dentist or a dental hygienist using special instruments, can remove the hardened tartar.

Q—When a toothache occurs, is it too late to save the tooth or must it be removed?

A—Sometimes this is true, the tooth may have to be extracted, but usually the tooth can be saved by proper treatment.

Q—Do large fillings weaken the teeth?

A—Unfilled cavities weaken the teeth much more than large fillings do.

Q—Does a toothache necessarily require the attention of a dentist, since it will often disappear by itself?

A—A toothache is nature's warning that something is wrong. Even though the pain may go away for a time, a dentist should be consulted. Toothache may occur because decay has started and is working its way toward the pulp, which contains the nerve. If the pain stops after a few days, it may mean that the pulp and the nerve are already destroyed by the disease. Or pain may be caused by the pressure of an abscessed tooth. Periodontal disease (of the gum or bone surrounding the teeth) may cause pain that is felt as a toothache. If heat or cold causes pain in a tooth, the advice of a dentist should be obtained.

Q—Can everybody expect to lose his teeth and have to wear dentures eventually?

A—Teeth were meant to last a lifetime. And they will, with proper home—and professional—care. If followed, three rules for dental health are effective in helping the individual to keep his teeth. These rules are: cut down on sweets, especially between meals; brush your teeth immediately after eating; and have regular dental checkups. Drinking fluoridated water or where that is not available, having topical applications of fluoride is of great benefit in reducing decay among today's children. The benefits are lifelong for those who drink it from birth.

Dairymen Favor Farm Bill

Pure Milk Association testified before the U. S. Senate Agriculture Committee in Washington, April 25, in favor of a bill by Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin to make low-interest, long-term loans available to young farmers to induce them to stay in agriculture and preserve the family-type farm.

Walter C. Kirchner, treasurer of Pure Milk Association, told the committee that the continuing decrease in farmer numbers could lead to limited production of food supplies which would adversely affect the nation's entire economy.

He said that in the last 15 years, one out of every two dairy farmers had quit selling milk. "The farm population now includes nearly twice as many adults over 55 years of age as those under 35," he pointed out.

Kirchner declared that capital

Medical Folklore Usually Wrong

While much of medical folklore is now obsolete and largely forgotten, there are still many completely erroneous beliefs about their health held by sizeable numbers of people in our so-called age of enlightenment.

TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family, points out that grandma is not always wrong in her concepts of health. But she often is wrong.

The book lists some of the common misconceptions about health—

- Eating between meals is always harmful (untrue).
- Bad breath means disease (not so).
- Milk should not be taken at the same time as sour fruits (not so).

- Proteins and carbohydrates should not be eaten at the same meal (incorrect).
- Daily bowel movements are necessary for health (untrue).
- Pain in the back must indicate kidney disease (incorrect).
- Pain in the abdomen means an overloaded stomach (wrong).
- A laxative is good for abdominal pain (it is sometimes dangerous).
- Food kept in an open tin can is necessarily poisonous (not if properly refrigerated).

- Pimples and boils indicate bad blood (they are due to infections).
- Boric acid strengthens the eyes (it does not).
- Fried and highly seasoned foods are harmful (not in moderation).
- A cold can be broken up or cured (it cannot).
- You feed a cold and starve a fever (no).
- Eye muscle exercises will eliminate the need for glasses (a dangerous fallacy).
- Vegetarianism is good for health (it simply makes good nutrition more difficult). 10/30/67

You Can Halt Junk Mail

Mail patrons offended by pandering advertisements can now take steps to curb such mail, Postmaster Joseph Wolf said today in announcing plans for administering a new law which gives each family the right to decide than an ad is "erotically arousing or sexually provocative."

When an advertisement sent through the mails is offensive on these grounds, a postal patron can now ask the post office to direct the mailer to send no more mail to him and to remove immediately the patron's name from all mailing lists he owns, controls or rents.

To assist patrons, the Post Office Department has published a brief pamphlet—"How You Can Curb Pandering Advertisements" which is now available at the Antioch post office. In addition to explaining how the law works, the pocket-size leaflet contains a form letter one can use when sending his complaint to the post office.

The pamphlet explains that when a patron receives an advertisement which is, in his opinion, pandering, he must send the ad, its envelope and the form letter, or one which includes its language, to his post office with the words, "Request for prohibitory order" on the face of the envelope.

Postmaster Joseph Wolf said: "This new law should give some protection to American families offended by advertisements they believe to be morally harmful, particularly to their children."

"Last year the Post Office Department received some 140,000 complaints from those offended by pandering advertisements. While

CCI Announces Illinois Mechanics' Liens Seminar

Practical guideposts to avoid the legal and financial pitfalls of dealing with mechanics' liens will be offered in The Illinois Mechanics Liens Seminar to be held on April 26, in Chicago's Loop. The seminar is being offered by the Chicago Construction Institute. Topics will include the lender's role in mechanics' liens administration; perfection of the mechanics' lien; owner's methods and protection; demonstration trial of a mechanic's liens case; mechanics' liens, bonds, title insurance, and other problems.

Marvin Mindes, President of The Chicago Construction Institute said in reference to mechanics' liens: "What was originally a complex artificial creature of statute has become infinitely more complex and difficult for the layman to understand. Yet understanding it and being able to deal with it has become essential to everyone directly or indirectly involved in any phase of real estate improvement and/or construction in Illinois today."

He went further to point out the large number of jobs that have been tied up—or even killed—because of mechanics' liens difficulties, and the many lenders and owners who have had to "swallow" losses because they did not get the appropriate documentation or information before they authorized payments. "Millions of dollars have been lost in unnecessary attorney's fees, interest for delay in receipt of money, and otherwise, because the parties didn't know how to make the lien law work for them, to utilize their reasonable rights to avoid being taken advantage of by other parties to a construction project."

This unique seminar, which has enjoyed much success in the past, is one of a series of law courses and one-day seminars offered to non-lawyers and the construction industry by the Chicago Construction Institute.

For further information contact The Chicago Construction Institute, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 60602, AN 3-0330.

Chamber Backs Con-Con In Nov. Vote

The Illinois Chamber of Commerce today declared its support for the proposed calling of a state constitutional convention, a step Illinois voters will decide at the November 5 general election.

The board of directors of the 20,000-member state-wide business organization endorsed the referendum on recommendation of the Chamber's Legislative Committee, headed by U. Gordon Colson.

The committee, in arriving at its recommendation, was guided by the findings of a special subcommittee headed by Edward J. Dirksen, associate general counsel of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, Chicago.

"Now is the time for all citizens of Illinois to give bipartisan support to the adoption of the con-con referendum question," said State Chamber President E. Stanley Enlund. "Every segment of our society can then participate in the election of delegates to the constitutional convention and have faith they will produce a document to meet modern needs."

Enlund, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago, added: "Con-con provides Illinois with an opportunity to modernize its government in order that it may better serve its citizens in all respects. To vote 'yes' on the referendum is to take the first step toward providing Illinois with the modern day tools so necessary to solving 20th century problems."

Enlund emphasized that voters in November will not be asked to decide on specific amendments to the constitution. "If the vote for con-con is favorable, the Illinois General Assembly will then provide by legislation the machinery by which convention delegates would be elected and how and when they would meet. It would then be the task of these delegates to develop specific recommendations to be submitted to the people for their approval or rejection at a special election."

Another 15 per cent of each dollar is budgeted for public health education in which every means is employed to persuade the public to seek treatment at the early presence of cancer. This includes the "double protection" of an annual checkup and of knowing and acting on cancer's warning signals. Education and instruction of doctors and nurses to the latest developments in cancer detection and treatment take another 9 per cent out of each dollar raised.

Other allocations are for cancer patients, involving easing and lightening the many burdens which cancer places on its victims with such services receiving approximately 17 per cent. The field of public information received 4 per cent.

Costs of administration of the organization are 8 per cent and fund raising is budgeted at 10 per cent. This meets the uniform accounting standards of the National Health Council, an organization made up of leading voluntary health agencies.

The combination of science, medicine and education is succeeding in saving more lives each year from cancer. "The dollar you give to the Cancer Crusade," Mrs. Brook said, "goes to fight cancer."

Mail Gun Sales Out At Sears & Wards

Ross Randolph, director of the Department of Public Safety, last week sent congratulatory notes to E. F. Donnell, president of Montgomery Ward and Co., Chicago, and to Arthur M. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck and Co., Chicago, complimenting them for their recently announced elimination of the sale of firearms by mail order and of the sale of firearms to minors.

Actions of the nation's two largest direct mail firms, which also are among the nation's leading

Start Now To Put Yourself In Shape

Your doctor recognizes the importance of exercise to health. The American Medical Association points out that exercise, or lack of it, is often a significant factor in the control of obesity, diabetes, heart and circulatory problems, orthopedic disease and emotional disorders.

Fitness developed through vigorous activity and exercise can be preventive, as well as therapeutic, in nature.

In a positive sense, health includes abundant energy and vitality. A healthy person is physically fit when he can perform his daily work and tasks without undue fatigue, maintain adequate reserves of energy to enjoy recreational activities and leisure, and meet the challenge of unexpected demands. These might be running to catch a train, quickly climbing several flights of stairs, shoveling snow, or jacking up the car to change a tire.

Can you go up several flights of stairs without severe discomfort, chest pain, or having to stop before you reach the top? You would expect to be puffing a little at the top, but this should subside soon if you are reasonably fit.

The best exercise is doing something physically active which you enjoy, with the exercise part secondary. If you enjoy swimming or tennis, or handball, these are excellent sports for exercising most of the body. Golf is good for the tired businessman. Most of us, however, find it difficult to exert the mental discipline to keep at

Cancer Funds Well Spent

A breakdown of how the funds raised by the American Cancer Society are budgeted reveals that about 37 cents of each dollar goes in finance scientific research projects, according to Mrs. William Brook, chairman of the Crusade in Antioch. The American Cancer Society, which raises funds through its annual Crusade against Cancer campaign in April and from bequests and legacies, allocated over 18 million dollars in research in 1967, he said.

This broad area of cancer research includes financing of all special projects dealing with investigation into how cancer starts, how it can be halted or even reversed or prevented. It is only through this intensive research into all phases of cancer will answers to these questions be discovered.

Research investments undertaken by the American Cancer Society have helped develop proce-

Settlers Guessed About Medicine

American medical tradition stems from an age very different from the one in which we now live, points out TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family.
 The early settlers, living remote from civilization, turned to the traditions of their ancestral homelands and to the methods of the Indians, and came up with a medical lore all their own. Their ideas of prevention and treatment were not all wrong, but often they did more harm than good. Some of the common misconceptions of the frontier era have carried over into modern times.

TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE lists the facts about some of these misconceptions—
 • Blood pressure of 100 plus the individual's age is not the normal value.
 • Red meats and alcohol are not necessarily harmful to those with high blood pressure.
 • Fish is not a brain food. It is simply a good food for all parts of the body.
 • Sweets, while possibly detrimental to the teeth, are not the sole cause of tooth decay.
 • There is no reason of health why one should not eat shellfish and ice cream at the same meal, provided neither of them is spoiled.
 • Lemons, oranges, tomatoes and grapefruit do not cause "acidity" of the body.
 • Fat people are not necessarily carefree and jolly.
 • Being fat and 40-and-feeling well does not constitute a good reason for declining to lose weight.

• It is not necessarily unwise to drink water with your meals, if you don't gulp it.
 • Gargles and mouthwashes do not kill the germs in the mouth or throat.
 • Boils are not due to impure blood.
 • Punctures from rusty nails are no more dangerous than punctures from shiny nails; the danger lies in the germs that either one may introduce.
 • Night air is not unhealthy. However, it is not necessary to open the windows of your bedroom wide at night, especially when it is cold.
 • Whiskey with aspirin is not a good remedy for a cold. The cold might improve in spite of it.

thing"—like smashing Mom's favorite china or throwing a shampoo bottle into the toilet.
 This is the small child's normal, healthy attempt to reach out and discover the world around him. On the other hand, "angelic" children who weekly obey orders to sit still and never reach out for the world around them usually have some physical or psychological defect.

Many of these children suffer from some kind of emotional disorder, such as repression neuroses and feelings of rejection. Their timidity—even at a very young age—is an abnormal attempt to gain approval and acceptance from their elders.

After a detailed survey, scientists also showed that "angelic" children suffer far more physical disorders than their less well-behaved counterparts, especially upper respiratory tract infections such as flu and pneumonia.

A major cause for this greater susceptibility to disease is a deficiency of gamma globulin in the blood. This substance—which constitutes a protein portion of the blood—changes to antibodies that fight off disease organisms whenever they attack the body.

When doctors inject gamma globulin into infection prone "angelic" children, the results are little short of spectacular. Not only do they resist infection far more effectively, they immediately begin harassing their parents by pulling down drapes and knocking over lamps in a most uncanny way.

So, if your toddler is Destruction on Wheels, don't worry. Rather worry—and consult your physician—if he is too "angelic" to be true.

SKIN CANCER—MOST CURABLE
 Did you know skin cancer still kills about 5,000 Americans every year?
 That's true. But it's also true that almost all of the 90,000 new cases of skin cancer reported annually can be cured?

Skin cancer is EASIER TO CURE than most other types of cancer primarily because: 1. It is more readily detected at an early stage when treatment is effective; and 2. it usually does not spread to other organs through the blood stream.

AND, a great factor in treatment and cure may be YOUR OWN ALERTNESS to symptoms of the disease.

Visual spotting of symptoms is very important in early skin cancer detection. If you wait for pain, you may have waited too long, although even then cure may be possible.

Warning signs like these can be very important in making yourself alert to cancer dangers: "Any mole or similar blemish that bleeds, changes color, is constantly irritated, or increases in size."

"A sore that is painless but keeps expanding slowly and does not heal."

"Raw spots or thickened white spots on the lips or in the mouth. Certainly not all moles, warts or skin eruptions are cancerous. But to be safe, keep them under constant surveillance—especially moles. If you see any change in their appearance don't hesitate to call them to the attention of your physician."

Alertness and early detection and treatment provide the best safeguard against skin cancer.
